Encouraging Aviation & Aerospace STEM Training

Our collaborative and engaging organizations set rays of hope and ambition for young adults with a hands on curriculum focused on STEAMD++

This is a three week, Saturday-only program hosted at Los Angeles International Airport on June 4, 11 and 18. Participants will gain insights into aerospace and aviation careers including an opportunity for attendees over 16 to apply for United's Aviate Academy flight school which is a pipeline to becoming a United pilot.
